About Copeland

Copeland Furniture has been producing wood products and furniture since 1976. We have gradually grown over the years from a one man shop to the largest employer in our small town of Bradford, Vermont producing high quality furniture.

We are surrounded by beauty. The architectural gems that line the streets in Vermont's well preserved villages inform our aesthetic and sense of proportion. The natural landscape surrounds us with beauty in the form of farmland and mountains, and is also the source of a renewable resource - solid hardwood - from which we build beautiful furniture for your home.

We know that our environment is, in many ways, very fragile. We are the beneficiaries of the strong stewardship ethic practiced and passed down by those who went before us. We hope that the next generation appreciates our stewardship and is inspired to continue the tradition.

We hope that you can see that respect for the landscape in the furniture we build for your home – timeless designs and timeless quality.

We remain a family owned and operated business committed to manufacturing high quality products in America.

Combining the clean, unadorned lines of the International Modernists with organic and geometric forms, the Catalina Collection is suggestive of the works of America's Mid-Century Modern designers. The years following WWII were a time of uncertainty but also of great hope and progress. Designs of the period reflected that sense of hope and the promise of an ideal future. In our current period, one finds comfort and nostalgia in Catalina's retro-modern shapes and sensibilities.

The Catalina bed is low and sleek, designed for a mattress only, and is available in two heights. It is perfectly complemented by a selection of case pieces, including a 3 drawer chest with organizer options for home entertainment equipment and a laptop desk that creates a trim, functional workspace.

The Catalina Bedroom is crafted in solid American black walnut hardwood* with natural finish (specify conventional or water borne finish) and Made to Order with a variety of knob or pull options.

*Bed headboard panel is laminated with walnut veneer.

furniture for the bedroom.

Individual pieces within the collection can stand alone as stylish contemporary designs or can be arranged in a modular sectional for a semi-built-in configuration.

Whether you're imagining a conventional bedroom set or a sectional configuration, Moduluxe has the versatility and range of options to realize your vision.

Platform beds and cases are available in heights of either 29" or 35". A 35" high storage bed is also available.

Three unique headboard designs are available: a flat panel design, an upholstered design and a louvered "clapboard" design.

Cases, desks and media units are available in a wide range of configurations.

The Moduluxe Bedroom is crafted in solid maple, cherry or American black walnut hardwood* and Made to Order in fifteen finishes (specify conventional or water borne finish) with a variety of knob or pull options.

*Bed headboard panel is laminated with maple, cherry or walnut veneer.
Natural variations in solid wood and hand-applied finishes make each piece unique. Slight grain and irregularities as well as subtle differences in stain shades are signs that the furniture has been crafted from solid wood and are considered hallmarks of quality.

35" High Case

29" High Case

In basic functional terms the difference between the 29" high case series and the 35" high case series may be understood as the difference of one drawer - as with the three and four drawer cases shown here.

For the consumer, selecting 29" high Moduluxe bedroom vs. 35" Moduluxe bedroom will be a question of aesthetic preference, storage needs and/or space limitations in the intended room.

moduluxe headboard designs

When arranged in a sectional configuration, Moduluxe cases should be leveled with the built-in leg levelers. The levelers are accessed through holes in each corner of the inside bottom of the case. A special 5mm hex-drive ratchet is required for the adjustment. This tool is included only with Moduluxe corner cases although it may be purchased separately. This operation is not necessary when the cases and beds are arranged separately from each other.

planning a moduluxe sectional bedroom

There are several questions that should be considered before planning a Moduluxe sectional configuration:

- Approximately how many storage drawers and/or shelves are needed for the space in question?
- Does a desk or media unit need to be incorporated into the floor plan?
- What are the dimensions of the room in question?
- Are there any architectural elements like window casings, soffits, light switches, etc. that preclude certain pieces?

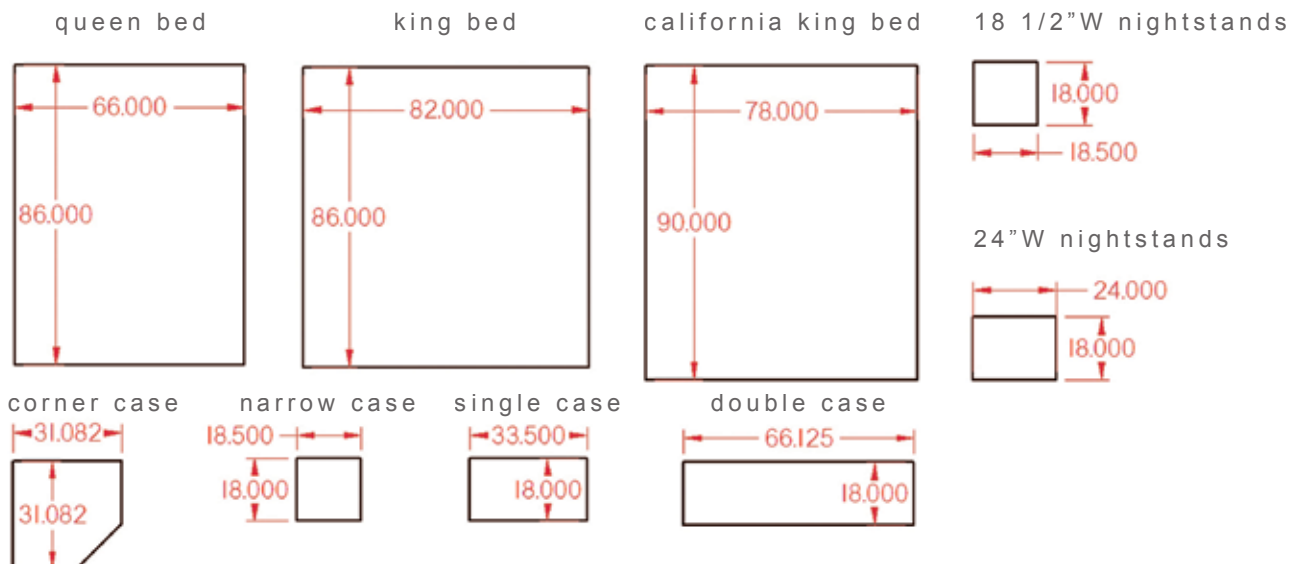

typical moduluxe sectionals

Once the questions above are answered it's time to start configuring the actual space. Most Moduluxe bedrooms will be laid out in a common "L" sectional. This requires an open corner of a room and some length extending in both directions. Starting at the corner, measure the available space along each of the two walls.

common moduluxe dimensions

The diagrams below illustrate a top-down view and floor plan dimensions of the various Moduluxe pieces:

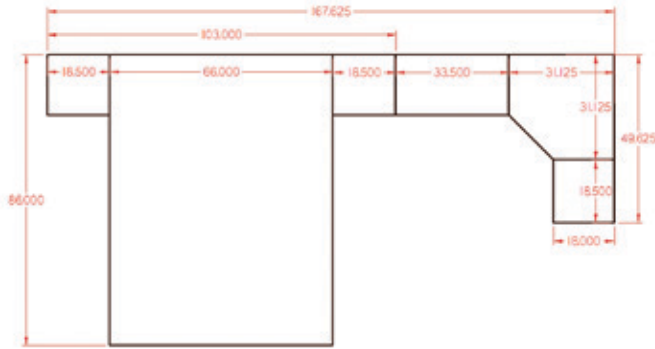

- Beds are available in three standard North American sizes: Queen, King and California King.
- Nightstands are available in one of two standards widths.
- Moduluxe cases come in one of three standard widths.
- All Corner Cabinets occupy a footprint of the same dimension.

about copeland

Timeless design, heirloom quality and a genuine commitment to sustainability are what you receive when you buy a Copeland Furniture product. For over 35 years we have been designing and manufacturing high quality, solid wood furniture in Bradford, Vermont. Even as styles change, at Copeland Furniture we remain true to our roots as expressed in the old New England adage “make it last, wear it out, make it do or do without.” This is the antithesis of today’s disposable culture where both the style and even products themselves are intended to require frequent replacement. We design our furniture to be with you for life and handed down to subsequent generations. This emanates from our firmly held belief that permanence is the essence of sustainability. Our values are also informed by New England’s Shaker communities who taught “Don’t make something unless it is both necessary and useful; but if it is both necessary and useful, don’t hesitate to make it beautiful.” The combination of this ethic and our use of high quality, traditional materials results in a simple, clean lined Modernism that transcends fashion or style and speaks directly to our customer’s best qualities.

catalina dining in cherry

Combining the clean, unadorned lines of the International Modernists with organic and geometric forms, the Catalina Collection is suggestive of the works of America's Mid-Century Modern designers. The years following WWII were a time of uncertainty but also of great hope and progress. Designs of the period reflected that sense of hope and the promise of an ideal future. In our current period, one finds comfort and nostalgia in Catalina's retro-modern shapes and sensibilities.

The Catalina Dining Room is crafted in solid cherry hardwood and Made to Order in six finishes* with a variety of knob or pull options. Catalina Dining items are finished with a low sheen (10 sheen) top coat.

kyoto dining

The aesthetic ideals common to traditional Japanese design and Western Modernism are on display in the Kyoto dining collection. Its broad surfaces and simple geometry give way to the naturally complex beauty of Kyoto's solid Walnut grain. Following the principle that we define our surroundings and our surroundings define us, qualities such as Simplicity, Asymmetry, Understatement and Naturalness come together in Kyoto to produce a design that subtly brings the mind to a state of tranquility or active-calm.

All pieces are crafted in solid American black walnut hardwood and are finished with a low sheen (10 sheen) top coat.

Upholstered items are available in a range of microsuede, fabric or leather colors as well as COM (customer's own material). Please refer to the upholstery page of this catalog for options.

Hancock occasional tables are named after Boston's famous John Hancock Tower. Designed by Henry Cobb, the Hancock Tower is noted for the way its enormous mass seemingly disappears into the historic surroundings of Boston's Copley Plaza. Heavy framing members drawn to a soften knife edge and legs positioned against top edges produce a similar effect with our Hancock occasional tables allowing them to seamlessly blend into any decor.

The Hancock Tables are crafted in solid American black walnut hardwood and are finished with a low sheen (10 sheen) top coat.

The aesthetic ideals common to traditional Japanese design and Western Modernism are on display in the Kyoto occasional table's collection. Its broad surfaces and simple geometry give way to the naturally complex beauty of Kyoto's solid Walnut grain. Following the principle that we define our surroundings and our surroundings define us, qualities such as Simplicity, Asymmetry, Understatement and Naturalness come together in Kyoto to produce a design that subtly brings the mind to a state of tranquility or active-calm. berkeley home office

Traditional Japanese woodworkers saw design as the process of releasing wood's richness and natural beauty. Rather than self indulgent pursuit of personal tastes, these craftsmen had an aesthetic vision inseparably tied to the natural characteristics of the material itself. This philosophy is evident in the Berkeley Home Office. With its graceful curves and a form that allows for plenty of visible end grain, Berkeley highlights the depth of character inherent in its solid cherry and American black walnut construction.

The collection includes a desk and return along with file, and organizer options that can be combined to create a trim and functional workspace.

The Berkeley Home Office is crafted in solid cherry hardwood* and are Made to Order in six finishes (specify conventional or water borne finish) with a variety of pull options.

Green Furniture

Copeland Furniture is Green Furniture

Preservation and stewardship are values that run deep in Vermont. We take pride in the quality of the environment and the natural beauty that surrounds us. Here are some of the ways that our environmental values are reflected in each piece of furniture that we make:

We use sustainably harvested hardwoods from the American Northern Forest

The lumber we use comes from within 500 miles of our factory. Living and working in and near the regions that supply our raw materials means that far less fossil fuel is consumed and less carbon dioxide emitted through transportation. Furthermore, a recent independent research study,* commissioned by the American Hardwood Export Council (AHEC) and conducted by a team of international experts confirms that:

- U.S. hardwoods derive from legal and well managed forests. Hardwood procured from anywhere in the hardwood states could be considered Low Risk in all five Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) controlled wood risk categories.
- There exists, a low risk that U.S. hardwoods are produced from controversial sources as defined in the Chain of Custody standard of the Program for the Endorsement of Forest Certification (PEFC).
- The U.S. hardwood-producing region can be considered low risk for illegal and non-sustainable hardwood sourcing as a result of public and private regulatory and non-regulatory programs.

The full report can be found at www.ahec-europe.org*

We were awarded Silver Exemplary Membership Status by Sustainable Furnishings Council

Copeland Furniture was awarded Silver Exemplary Membership Status by Sustainable Furnishings Council (SFC), joining only a handful of companies to have been awarded this prestigious distinction for proven performance in meeting a range of specific sustainability measures.

Recipient of the Sage Award for environmental excellence

Sponsored by the American Home Furnishings Alliance (AHFA), the award program was launched to recognize environmental accomplishments within the home furnishings industry. For more information go to www.sageaward.org

Water based finishes are optional on most our furniture.

A water born, formaldehyde free finish may be specified for most Copeland Furniture pieces. These finishes are every bit as durable as our traditional catalyzed lacquer with the added benefit of drastically reduced VOC emissions at the factory and off-gassing at the home.

We create durable furniture with timeless designs that will last generations.

Heirloom-quality furniture has less environmental impact than a piece that will fail or has a "fashion life." We use time-tested joinery and construction methods, combined with durable finishes and quality hardware.

We're not done.

While the environmental impact of our factory and the environmental cost of the furniture we build for you is among the lowest, we're not standing still. We've continued to work to reduce VOC (volatile organic compounds) emissions. We've reduced packaging material purchases with the installation of a box making machine that allows us to make only what we need. We recycle all packaging waste and have reduced our reliance on landfill disposal. We now heat our building completely with wood waste from our manufacturing operation further reducing our consumption of imported oil.
